Services Sunday morning at Methodist church by the pastor, The Rev. Charles R. Hemphill, D. D., L. L. D., president of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Kentucky, of Louisville, will preach at the Presbyterian church Sunday. Dr. F. W. Troy will preach his closing sermon Sunday at the Christian church, subjects, morning, "Our Destiny," evening, "Our Homes." Union services Sunday evening at the Christian church, this being Dr. Troy's last sermon in Millersburg.

Miss Lucille Dailey entertained with a stocking and handkerchief shower Wednesday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 for Miss Marie Louise Cray. The beautiful home was darkened and softly illuminated with wax tapers in candelabra. The color scheme was pink and white and was nicely carried out. Mrs. W. G. Dailey, mother of the hostess, met the guests at the door and packages were received by little Misses McLona Butler and Caroline McIntyre after which they were ushered into the presence of the receiving line which stood just within the parlor and was made up of Miss Dailey, the hostess, who wore blue chiffon over blue messaline, and Miss Gray, in black net over green messaline. Candles under pink shades gave a pleasing effect. Miss Alma Duke Jones rendered pleasing music.

After the guests had all assembled each presented the bride-to-be with a card upon which was written a characteristic of a good wife. These were read aloud, she then reading to each from the book of "Fate" their future destiny. These couplets from the book of "Fate" were especially good being arranged by Mrs. Dailey. The guests then repaired to the drawing room where refreshments consisting of salad, beaten biscuits, olives, cheese sandwiches, hot chocolate and mint were served. The drawing room was beautifully arranged.

On the large table in the center of the room were silver candelabra and candlesticks with rose shades and silver bon bon dishes. On a small table was a large crepe paper shoe of pink laced with white ribbon which contained the handkerchiefs and stockings wrapped in tissue paper. After lunch these were presented to the bride by the hostess in an appropriate little address that will always be remembered by those present. The packages were then opened by the bride who bestowed upon the donors her thanks.

More than thirty guests were present. It was one of the most delightful entertainments of the kind ever given, abounding largely in originality and was a decided departure from the average.

Mr. Henry Miller, of Atlanta, Ga., arrived Wednesday as the guest of his brother, Dr. W. M. Miller.

Mr. Barton Rogers, of Cincinnati, was the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Josh Barton, Wednesday.

Miss Esther K. Nell entertained the Clare-Schumann Musical Club at her home Wednesday afternoon. The club consists of the members of her class, number about twenty-two. There were a few invited guests present. Several good musical selections were rendered. A musical game arranged by Miss Nell was then indulged in. The game was a simple story with blanks to be filled in with musical terms. The prize which was a picture of the great composer, Bach, was won by Miss Nola Redd. Salads, sandwiches and hot chocolate were served.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church gave a reception Thursday afternoon in honor of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Troy who will leave next week for their new field of labor. The attendance was large as the entire congregation of the church had been invited. Various reports of the work of the society during the past year were read and proved very interesting and it gave many, especially the laymen of the church, an idea of the good that is being done by this zealous band of earnest workers, of which during the year Mrs. Troy was president. The ladies made a brilliant record and are to be commended. This will go into history as one of the most brilliant years of the society. A dainty lunch consisting of beaten biscuits, sandwiches, pickles, cheese, coffee and mints was served.
